[CERTIFIED FOR PARTIAL PUBLICATION]

F042660 People v. Turner

The matter is remanded to the trial court. After remand, the People may choose to allow defendant's current plea (to a violation of section 288a, subdivision (b)(1) and the other charges) to stand and defendant would be entitled to resentencing and a reduction in his 22-year sentence based on these offenses. If the People choose to forego a simple resentencing, then defendant's plea must be vacated.

Thereafter the People must offer defendant the option of entering a plea to a corrected 22-year plea bargain. If the People proceed by offering defendant a new plea agreement of not more than 22 years and defendant chooses not to accept it, then all of the original charges will be restored and the matter will proceed to trial. Vartabedian, Acting P.J.

We concur: Wiseman, J.; Cornell, J.
